- (g) except as expressly stated in this clause 2, the Customer has no right (and shall not permit any third party) to copy, reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble, modify, adapt or make error corrections to the Licensed Content in whole or in part except to the extent that any reduction of the Licensed Content to human readable form (whether by reverse engineering, decompilation or disassembly) is necessary for the purposes of integrating the operation of the Licensed Content with the operation of other software or systems used by the Customer unless the Supplier is prepared to carry out such action at a reasonable commercial fee or has provided the information necessary to achieve such integration within a reasonable period, and the Customer shall request the Supplier to carry out such action or to provide such information (and shall meet the Supplier's reasonable costs in providing that information) before undertaking any such reduction.

- (h) the Customer shall indemnify and hold the Supplier harmless against any loss or damage which Customer may suffer or incur as a result of the Customer's breach.

2.3 The Customer may not use any such information provided by the Supplier or obtained by the Customer during any such reduction permitted under this agreement to create any software whose expression is substantially similar to that of the Licensed Content nor use such information in any manner which would be restricted by any copyright subsisting in it.
